SETTL AT LAST.

The Railroads Come to an Agreement.

They Will Proceed to the Spots Equitably—The Central Pacific to Continue the Contract System.

CHICAGO, NOV. 9.—It seems to be definitely settled, by which the business to the Pacific Coast is to be taken at the same rates via all routes, to be modified. The understanding is now that the Central Pacific and Northern Pacific are to divide the business to the West to control the business to San Francisco and California points, and the latter the business to Portland and Oregon and Washington. The Pacific will have to charge higher rates to San Francisco than the direct lines, and the Central lines will charge higher rates to Portland and Oregon. The Territory points. This will enable the Central Pacific to increase its present traffic in California freight, and will allow the Northern Pacific to make such contracts as it chooses with shippers at points within its own territory.

THE PACIFIC COAST.

A Costly Treaty for the Central Pacific.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—In the case of Reginald Heber, who, while transhipping a steamer to feed his monkey in the baggage car, was so violently ejected from the steamer by the porters as to sustain severe injuries, and with a broadsword against the Central Pacific Railroad Company for $50,000 damages, the jury returned a verdict for the Company.

A RUMOR DENIED.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—The rumor which reached here from New York that the Southern Pacific is negotiating for the purchase of the California and Oregon railroad is denied. It is stated that the Southern Pacific, having a good harbor at San Pedro, have no desire to create opposition to themselves at San Diego.

THE MARION MURDER TRIAL.

YANKEE CAVE, Nov. 9.—In the case of C. W. Marrott, charged with the murder of his father-in-law, E. C. Marion, which began yesterday, Mrs. Marion, the defendant's wife, testified to having told her husband on the morning he shot Marion, that her father made an attempt four years ago to seduce her, and of the final assault, when she was forced to leave of March last, and of her father's threats to kill her and her husband if she divulged the crime. When told of this last night, her husband refused to believe it. The testimony will probably be all in to-day.

YUCA COUNTY AND THE RAILROAD TAXES.

MARYVILLE, Nov. 8.—The Board of Supervisors of Yuba county have refused to contribute anything toward the cost of protecting the railroad tax suit in the United States Supreme Court. The company have no documents in the case.

GOOD INDIANS ONCE MORE.

PRESCOTT, A. T., Nov. 9.—A report is at hand that San Carlos is the effect that all the Chinaman Apaches have ten bucks and thirty women and children, and in Charlie McComas is supposed to be alive and will be returned.

FOREIGN NEWS.

Lord Mayor's Day in London.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—The procession of the Lord Mayor's show passed off without disturbance, as was to be expected. In comparison, a clamorously disorganized crowd was created, upon which the Lord Mayor received the address from the Common Council. The procession, especially the trophy exhibit, the commercial procession, the American Indians, together with the exhibits of the International Fisheries exhibition, including the "Grace Darling" boat, excited great enthusiasm. The same was true with spectators. Along the end of the route the Lord Mayor was received with mingled admiration and execration.

ALL AMERICAN ELEVATORS FOR BRITAIN.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 9.—The Council of the Empire has sanctioned in principle the Russo-American scheme for the erection of grain elevators and storehouses throughout the Empire.

DEFAUTER GRAY.

He is sentenced to Ten Years in the Gaol.

SAN FRANCISCO, NOV. 9.—John S. Gray, ex-Secretary of the Harbor Commission, was sentenced this morning by Judge T. C. Tracy to a year and a half for his offense.

MORE ABOUT THE GRAY CASE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—The District Attorney states that if the Supreme Court does not interfere with the judgment in the case of Gray, just decided, and allows it to stand, Gray will not be prosecuted on any of the other forty-three informations against him. The other cases will be tried him, the other cases will be pushed. Under the Goodwin Act, if Gray receives the usual credit, his term will amount to six years and six months.

THE YELLOW FEVER.

16 Breaks Out at the New Orleans
Charity Hospital.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 9.—A six-year-old Italian girl died of yellow fever in the Charity Hospital three hours after admittance. The child was one of a family of emigrants who, with others, came here from Verz Cruz.

NEW YORK.

No Material Change in the State Ticket.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—The Sun says: The corrected returns have made no material change in the majority of the State ticket. SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1885.

The Contra Costa Gazette, the Sacramento Bee, and other State papers agree that each county would be the gainer in many respects by making a separate exhibit at the State Fair.

"Such an exhibit," says the first-named journal, "would attract the attention of visitors from all over the coast to the products of each county, and growers would be enabled to learn much of value from each other. Each county could make an exhibit independent of its annual fair." We favor this plan, as we believe it would be the advantage of both the State and the several counties.

Gen. SHERMAN in laying down the active duties of his office gave a good account of his stewardship. "I believe," he wrote, "I can surrender the army to my successor in good shape and condition, well provided in all respects and distributed for the best interests of the country." Secretary Lincoln in his reply expressed, in suitable terms of sincere feeling, the hope, in which all cordially join, that the General may yet be given many years of health and happiness in which to enjoy the grateful affection of the nation.

The San Francisco Examiner excclaims against the apathy of San Francisco merchants, who, it claims, sleep while the trade of New Mexico, Arizona and Texas lies at the door, waiting for a taker. It declares that the advantages of San Francisco are such that she can just as well control that trade as not. Let the merchants of Los Angeles get up, shake themselves, and divide that trade with the metropolis.

The New York Morning Journal recently offered a prize of a mercantile schaum pie for the funniest poem on the mother-in-law. Over a column of contributions, in all kinds of rhyme and meter, were published, some good, but the majority atrocious in style and sentiment. The prize was awarded by a panel of vote of subscribers to the author of the following couplet: "She washes the dishes and sweeps the floor, Oh, a rare old bird is my mother-in-law."

The elevation of Prescott, the capital of Arizona, above sea level, is now given as 5339 feet. This makes Prescott one of the most elevated cities in the United States. Denver's elevation is 5196 feet and Salt Lake's only 4290 feet. The City, Santa Fe, Cheyenne and Laramie are all higher, their elevations being 6205, 6840, 6000 and 7123 feet, respectively.

Rates of fare by stage and railroad from Prescott, Arizona, to points in California have been fixed as follows: To Los Angeles, $44; Stockton, 51.50; Sacramento, 53.55; San Jose, $54.10; San Francisco, $54.25. These are stiff prices, but they do not discourage immigration from the sun-kissed land.

PENSION payments, tariff changes, tax reductions, uncertain crops, sharp stocks and all other financial disturbances, great and small, seem to have no effect on that monotonous surplus in the Treasury at the end of every month. Another ten million dollars of the debt was wiped out in October.

The Democratic papers—at least all of them that have not gone off at half-cock and lost their heads over the meager Democratic successes of Tuesday—begin to "roar you gently as a sucking dove" over the prospect in 1884.

The plurality of Carr, Republican candidate for Secretary of State in New York, mounts up to 18,000. Still there was a "great Democratic victory" in the Empire State, according to the wind-bag journals of that party.

It is said that American companies have completed over 1600 miles of railroad in Mexico, investing there $30,000,000. Mexicans have constructed 635 miles of road and English companies have built 833 miles.

A RIVAL to the Anaheim ostrich farm is to be established in Florida, at Sylvan Lake. Birds have been imported from Nubia, being eight months on the journey, by the roundabout route to the United States.

The Alta says: "Los Angeles appears likely to become an important centre of manufactures as well as of other industries." Yes; we are coming to it.

The last melancholy days have come, the saddest of the year."

And still the Republicans are not very unhappy.

I would not live always, I ask not to stay, where storm after storm rises dark o'er the way.—[EX. BENT.]

The latest saurian discovery in Texas is said to be an alligator fifty feet long, imbedded in a coal mine of that State. This is a very refreshing lie.

The latest Musel Slough tragedy—the killing of McAliffe, who was left in charge of the Knox ranch, from which one Cockrell was removed a few days ago, and who was found dead near his house with several bullet-wounds in his body—is eliciting indignant comment from the press of the State. It was nothing less than a cowardly and brutal murder, the authors of which deserve to be hunted down and visited with the utmost penalty of the law. The mania for murder in the blood-stained settlement is becoming chronic.

The prohibitionists of Wisconsin have solemnly resolved that they will not thereafter labor to advance the political fortunes or ambitions of any one who is not committed to the cause of prohibition. "Unless he is a Democrat," they probably meant to add. The prohibitionists have a cranky fashion of giving aid and comfort to their deadly enemies.

A POSTMISTRESS in Ohio resigned her office that she might take a husband. This was a very curious thing for an Ohio woman to do. No Ohio man's senses would have resigned an office to take a husband.

THERE are ten counties in Mississippi in which no papers are published. The Democratic majority in Mississippi was large. The two facts go together.

The Examiner's boasting over the results of the election is laborious and guarded.

A CITY OF MARVELOUS CONCEPTIONS AND SMALL REALIZATIONS.—THE INDIAN, THE CHIMES OF NORMANDY, ETC.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.

SAN FRANCISCO, NOV. 8.—Here I am in a wilderness of strange faces and the solitude of a crowd. San Francisco is the epitome of all California, the cosmopolitan center of a State which stretches to the dimensions of an empire. Everything on the Pacific Coast revolves around and centers in San Fran. To be in California and San Francisco is to live—it is life. It was nothing less than a cowardly and brutal murder, the authors of which deserve to be hunted down and visited with the utmost penalty of the law. The mania for murder in the blood-stained settlement is becoming chronic.
